Trauma Informed

Revival is a trauma informed agency with staff trained in the treatment of trauma from early childhood through adulthood. Revival's staff focus on the individual and the environment, and the overlap between the two. We provide a unique approach to continued care across multiple disciplines.

Behavioral Health

Behavioral health incorporates how the emotions, behaviors, and biology of an individual impact their mental well-being, daily function, and concept of self. A person struggling with his or her behavioral health (also referred to as mental health) may face various psychological concerns as well as learning disabilities and dysfunctional behaviors.

Behavioral health therapists provide treatment interventions to facilitate skills and lifestyle changes to facilitate overall well-being. This will be applied as individual and family therapy.

ABA

Trauma informed ABA combines the science of applied behavior analysis and strategies utilized to make significant and lasting positive behavior change, while taking into account the client's past history and experiences. Our trauma informed ABA team actively consults with behavioral health and occupational therapists to provide a holistic team approach. This approach insures that interventions maintain effectiveness for the client while also navigating the difficult space of trauma that can impede effectiveness of behavioral interventions if not approached through a trauma informed lens.

OT

Occupational Therapy focuses on occupations or activities of daily living. Occupations include eating, playing, learning, sleeping, interacting with peers, dressing, hygiene, and physical activities. All ages have occupations from an infant's ability to explore their environment to a young adult making a meal. Activities of daily living can be negatively impacted by various dysfunctions such as mental/physical trauma, birth defects, or sensory processing issues. Occupational therapists are specialized in focusing on building the skills needed to promote success in school, socialization, learning, physical activities, self-care, and much, much more!
